

Diamondhead Business of the Year Nominees

Latitude 30 at The Club at Diamondhead

Latitude 30 serves as Diamondhead's crossroads—a place where neighbors gather, visitors feel welcome, and new friendships begin over great food and conversation. Open to the public inside The Club at Diamondhead, the restaurant invites everyone to experience the lifestyle that has made Diamondhead one of the Gulf Coast's most desirable communities, whether they're longtime residents, first-time visitors, or simply stopping in for dinner.

The restaurant's expansive patio overlooks the Club's beautifully maintained golf course, offering one of the area's most inviting settings for lunch, happy hour, dinner, or an evening of live entertainment. Karaoke, bingo, themed parties, and community celebrations keep the calendar full, creating reasons to return again and again. On any given night, guests are just as likely to leave with a new friend as they are with a great meal.

Latitude 30 captures the welcoming spirit of Diamondhead, giving residents a place they're proud to share and visitors a reason to come back.

Ochsner Podiatry

An active community deserves access to exceptional specialty healthcare close to home, and Ochsner Podiatry has become an important part of that commitment in Diamondhead. By providing expert foot and ankle care, diabetic foot management, wound care, and advanced treatment options in the heart of the community, the practice helps residents stay healthy, independent, and active while reducing the need to travel for specialized care.

Serving patients of all ages, Ochsner Podiatry treats everything from everyday foot pain and sports injuries to complex medical conditions with a focus on personalized, compassionate care. Whether helping a golfer return to the course, supporting a patient with diabetes, or restoring mobility after an injury, the team improves quality of life one patient at a time.

By bringing advanced specialty care to Diamondhead, Ochsner Podiatry strengthens the community's healthcare resources while helping residents continue enjoying the active lifestyle that makes Diamondhead such a special place to call home.

Lady Magnolia Boutique

Owner Sarah Schafer has created more than a boutique—she has created a place where creativity, confidence, and connection come together. At Lady Magnolia Boutique, Sarah carefully curates distinctive clothing, artisan accessories, and coveted Mary Frances handbags while helping every customer discover a style that reflects their personality and makes them feel their very best.

Beyond the boutique, Sarah channels her creativity into custom hat and fascinator designs while hosting popular hat-making classes where guests create one-of-a-kind pieces of their own. These hands-on experiences, combined with her genuine enthusiasm for supporting fellow small businesses and making every customer feel welcomed, have made Lady Magnolia a destination where shopping is personal, creativity is celebrated, and lasting friendships often begin.

Through her creativity, kindness, and unwavering commitment to the community, Sarah Schafer has built a business that inspires confidence, encourages self-expression, and adds color and charm to Diamondhead.
